

«State of the art» Information system on public transport

multitech
digital signage solutions

Background

In a shopping centre near Zurich, various public transport services are available.

Approach

Visitors to the shopping centre should be able to obtain information on all means of transport via an electronic display board. The data should be up-to-date and automatically updated.

Solution

Electronic information and display system H-Type from multitech with 55" display board.

The screen is protected by a hardened glass and a stainless steel frame. To ensure that the data can be easily read at all times, the light intensity has been adapted to the conditions on site.

The programming is done via the LCE-3 software and the content is automatically updated.
